Yamel Cázares has a strong track record in the legal field and is a prominent member of the firm's corporate team, providing comprehensive legal services that encompass all aspects of corporate law for both domestic and international companies.

Her expertise includes transnational acquisitions, multi-jurisdictional financial operations, and complex transactions that require strategic and meticulous management. Yamel has counseled a diverse range of clients, including national and international businesses from industries such as finance, mining, food, construction and infrastructure, and healthcare.

Furthermore, her practice integrates an innovative approach to technology and digital media. Yamel advises clients on the creation, management, and scaling of projects and programs across digital platforms.

She specializes in ensuring compliance with intellectual property rights, content licensing, and platform-specific regulations.

Her guidance extends to the development of terms of use, the identification and mitigation of legal risks, and the structuring of contracts related to the distribution of digital content.
